

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE FOUNDER OF F2M

WHAT IS THE CURRENT STATE OF HUMAN CONSCIOUSNESS? WHERE IS IT HEADED?

We are still dwelling in self-preservation, we are still caught by fear for survival, and this is dominating the entire living process. Only when this consciousness is transcended, can there be a new awareness which is founded in care, love and cooperation.

What has to be understood is that this consciousness has come into being not by a conscious choice but by the desperation of survival and the hardship that humanity has undergone. We have not necessarily had a golden era, we have been just trying to survive. This you can see, by the way we celebrate a successful person. The foundation of the celebration is that he is safe, he is a survivor, he is secure and so on. Thus, it shows that we are deeply uncertain of our own future and destiny.

We have equated success which is the certainty of survival, to happiness. We are just happy to survive, we are forced to be self-centered, and that is to look after ourselves and our sect of people.

We have burdened the people in power to do this; to take care and secure us and what we must understand is they are answerable to the masses, therefore they are operating from this consciousness. Thus the only thing they can do is spend a lot of time and effort to secure people who have voted them in and this works against securing humanity. Thus, this endless conflict is what our civilization has been. The idea of being bullied, the idea that unjust can prevail is so deep, and this has deepened the need for more corruption in the world where there is no energy or insight to work on real global healing.

However, another fact is also emerging which is the need for something new, a need for the old to renew itself, to something that will be a new platform for the new humanity. As we are holding on to the old consciousness there is a movement in the masses for something new.

These forces if we can become aware of what they can do to bring a global transformation, will act totally. This is why I feel F2M will play a role. It will be the platform in which the whole can participate in renewing itself.

You have asked where is the current consciousness headed.

I feel it's not headed anywhere, it's just going round and round, it's a dead end. In addition, this non-future situation is something totally unhealthy, because this will cause more fear and more panic will set in. With the impending oil crisis and energy shortage there is a demand for global cooperation and if that is not achieved, war will be inevitable. F2M I believe is going to be a direction for the world to evolve. How much it can do I am not sure, but what I am certain of, is that it will help evolve to the direction that will be beneficial to mankind. In this movement we will find the way, the method, the meeting point and a global cooperation that is going to be the platform for the new civilization.

What I would like to emphasize about F2M is that the answers that are needed for us to create a better world, is going to be found when we walk and work towards this direction of establishing the consciousness as Friends to mankind. When you move in this direction, the challenges that we have to meet will arise and become clear. This world has too many intelligent and beautiful people who will come up with the right answers and solutions for our time. One of the objectives of the Friends to mankind is to support, recognise and help in this process. I am not saying we have all the answers but all I am saying is when this exercise is undertaken and this direction is chosen, the answers will be found.

I remember a dialogue with J. Krishnamurthi in which he said that only when the right questions are asked, the right answers would come, the right questions will come when we collectively choose to move in this direction.

When more and more people say yes to this direction and are doing this with the understanding of the impending changes that it will bring, this machinery of a global revolution would have started, and our commitment to making it happen will fuel it.

WHAT CAUSED THIS STATE?

Are you asking me what has caused this current state of consciousness ... yes ... ok.

The first thing is the current state is an accidental happening; it's a tragedy that has fallen on us without our willing participation. But what has to be understood is that just because it happened without our willingness doesn't mean we are not responsible for it. We are totally responsible for it, by ignoring it or being unaware of it.

It's like getting into an accident and we say, "My god I didn't see it," but that doesn't excuse us from acting without responsibility or giving up our responsibility of being careful.

Another element is that the need to survive is so severe that we have neither time nor energy for anything else, and there is vested interest that wants us to be so. This powerlessness that we all experience is something in my opinion very cunningly created so that one can be ruled and moved in any direction.

Another reason that can be seen is that the state of antagonism within humanity has been the fuel to prevent us from coming together. It seems strange that we as a civilization have everything, we have used every human facet to differentiate ourselves and remain suspicious and uncertain of each other. The differences have been exaggerated and the similarities which are overwhelming have been suppressed, and have become unavailable to the human consciousness.

Whenever we see each other, the differences are the only thing we can see, this state of hypnotism has to be broken. And we hope that F2M will help in undoing this.

Man's forgetfulness of his own ability and power to effect is one of the keys that has been missing and the major cause for our civilization to be the way we are. We have worshipped people with power and in doing that we must confess that we have failed to recognize our own. Man's own ability and power to effect his world has to be reawakened, for a new world to happen.

ARE YOU SAYING THAT WE HAVE CURRENTLY CHOSEN NOT TO BE FRIENDS TO MANKIND?

No ... you haven't chosen not to be a Friend to mankind, but you haven't chosen to be a Friend to mankind. You have lived undecided and this non-decision is translated to a negative expression.

In this negative state any other expression takes priority and dominates. When you first heard of F2M you immediately recognised it and said yes, but that was not there before, and what was there before were elements that were working many times against mankind.

It's like victory without the awareness of F2M will lead to a conclusion which will act only in favour of one not the whole, thus it acts without your awareness against F2M.

You have asked, have you chosen not to be a F2M, in a way yes, by not choosing to be a F2M you have accidentally supported a consciousness against F2M. It's like this when you watch the Olympics without the awareness of F2M, you can be very nationalistic and this sentiment alone might be something that is against F2M. But if you have chosen deliberately to be a F2M, you will see that the whole result of the Olympics will be the celebration of humanity, where some nations may have contributed more to the excellence of the result. And the sentiment that might arise is more of a nation wanting to contribute to the celebration of the peak of humanity.

Just by deciding to be a F2M, the movement and the evolution is different, thus the result will be different.

Coming to your question, my answer is that without choosing, we have very unawaresly chosen not to be a Friend to mankind. Thus the need to make a conscious choice, to say yes, yes, yes, to being a F2M.

WHAT DO YOU SEE AS OUR CURRENT VALUES?

Our current value, at the core seems to be a brutal and survival nature. We seem to worship power and the power over our would-be friends. We have acted without the foresight of the future, and the impending dangers. We have not been able to negotiate ourselves from wars, famine and many other tragedies that have plagued mankind. We have lived in ignorance of the roles we play, and at most we are very interested in putting a mask as though we do care. At the real core we know that a self-serving nature which is self-destructive is at play.

I have always wondered that by just jumping on a plane and travelling a few hours to another country we seem to move back in time or forward in time, in the way countries and people are. There are places that are unbelievable; the poverty and the survival state that people are in, but on the other aspect we can see the affluence and the abundance that a few have.

The current value at play seems to be a value which ignores or is unaware of its own well-being. It seems to act in a way that brings tragedy back to its own doorstep, and by the time it arrives the problems seem to be in a state of impossibility to be solved.

In recent world affairs and the unrest, the question seems to come up of how did we miss this, how did we lose sight of this impending crisis. This gives us an insight to the way the world is and the values that we have accepted and lived by. Unless we act now, and right now ... the crisis that is waiting, if we choose to walk the way we have is almost unimaginable.

The scariest thing is, we seem to infect the future generation with this same ideology, with the same direction which they follow helplessly. We have to stop blaming how things are for how we are and where we are heading. We have to be proactive and make the changes starting with ourselves first and help enough to see this insight. This is what F2M is all about, that crucial step.

WHAT IS THIS F2M CONSCIOUSNESS THAT YOU ARE INITIATING?

To say I am doing this is too much of a responsibility for me, but talking to enough people that will undertake this work of initiation towards the Friends to mankind is what I'm doing. I am trying to gather enough people who will share this peaceful solution and all of us initiate each other towards this direction.

But if you are asking what direction F2M is moving towards ... or initiating ... ?

That is worth getting into.

The first thing is that we don't have to get personal, we just get global. This personal relationship in humanity seems to be the most volatile nature in mankind. Thus just building based on personal is rather dangerous and careless. It's like two friends running a company based on friendship and friendship alone; it's always risky because if the friendship fails all fails. And as history proves, we can fight with each other just because we have different tastes in the neckties we wear.

Thus a more stable platform has to be found, and with this stable platform the personal friendship has a deep ability to survive. This more stable platform that I am talking about is F2M. When we decide to respect each other and we decide to be a Friend to mankind, that union and agreement will be the strength to work out our differences or that agreement will not let the differences be exaggerated.

In the East, especially in the Hindu culture, the marriage that happens is said not to be personal in nature in the beginning, it's a union of two that come together to uphold a truth or dharma. When these two are together upholding the dharma or love, in that strength these two will evolve the personal which is in union with the universal thus it becomes divine.

In modern times, psychologists are agreeing that when two people are in agreement of a higher value, and both are working to uphold it, their personal union seems to be deepened and more secure. The Hindus say it's like two pillars holding up the same roof, that makes it a home.

I believe this is the only way to change this world from a harsh place to a heartfelt home.

The myth that we are different and are separated from each other has to be totally destroyed. We have to restore the truth that the differences are so superficial that its not worth mentioning or even bringing it up. It's like I eat with my hands and you eat with a spoon, it's not something worth arguing about or even discussing.

The next thing that has to be deeply realized is, that we alone can run this world, we alone can survive this life. It takes everybody and everyone's effort and involvement to make this world work. We need to establish cooperation, and this cooperation is born when we realize we need another no matter how big or small the contribution.

Thus the value of F2M, ... in considering you, consider another too, comes ... into play.

I know when you hear this you will think I am a romantic and this is an impossibility, but that is not true. You have seen it in wars where people come together for a higher cause and you hear their stories of comradeship shining forth and no differences are recognised among the troops.

In the recent tsunami, we saw the heart of the world open up and people rise to meet each other and help one another. By this tragedy, we as a humanity have demonstrated that grief is felt by the whole humanity, and the whole humanity is grieving because of its tragedy.

I believe that F2M does not need governing or force, all it needs is to just initiate the idea, the truth. The rest will happen unguided, unformatted. It will find its ground and manifestation.

I am not saying how it should turn out but just to start out and know and trust it will turn out rightly, serving humanity. Because that which we are relying deep upon is the decency in humanity and the possibility of love and living which is within all of us.

If we ever find out this is not possible, then we are truly doomed.

WHAT DO YOU SEE AS THE EFFECT IF THERE IS NO SHIFT IN THE CURRENT CONSCIOUSNESS?

The effect of our current consciousness is already being felt. The world is fragmented, separated, tied together only by power and abuse, and wars seem to be the only way to resolve conflict. Less than five years ago we lived daily with the constant fear of a nuclear war which appears to have settled for now, but can flare up any time.

The close calls that we have had in the last century of going towards the third world war is unbelievable.

As a citizen of the world, we all have watched the news and documentation of civil wars and famine and tragedies and remain totally helpless. At most we donated some dollars to relieve our own guilt.

This helplessness is not just isolated to the audience of this tragedy but seems to be the reality lived by those who are living it. The only control that we seem to have is to switch the remote control over to the channel we are tuned to.

You have asked what the effect is if there is no shift in the current consciousness.

The only thing that is possible, is to destroy each other for survival, one group of people must destroy another for survival, I can't see it going anywhere else.

You must know there are many organisations that are working hard and who have dedicated themselves to bringing peace and a better world, but we have watched them helpless, we have watched them being bullied and pushed aside. The international law is not necessarily respected, and this is done repeatedly in front of the eyes of the world.

Ask yourself if you feel safe in this world, if you don't, then ask why? Is there a real future for your children ... what are we leaving our children , what are we leaving them with?

Why is this, this way, why?

Who is responsible, who is going to put it right?

What are we to do?

This is the reality we are in now because we have not shifted our consciousness, and just imagine if we continue to do so ...

No human being must be put in a helpless situation, no human being must live without a future, no human being must feel isolated, unsupported and stranded.

We must create a world that supports humanity and all that is alive, we must use our resources and intelligence for this to come into being. If you watch, we have used our intelligence in many ways, some destructive, some constructive, but now we have to use it in a very proactive way. This intelligence must be allowed to flower in a way to bring a better world.

What I would like to emphasize is that there are many people who are doing this, but most often they are isolated and abused. What F2M would like to do is to provide an umbrella where they can come together to work, supported together and fuel them to find more and more ways to bring this world to a whole state.

One thing is certain, we can't go on this way, we have to change, not with violence, but a peaceful natural organic transformation. F2M would play a part in achieving this.

WILL F2M BE ABLE TO CHANGE THE DIRECTION HUMANITY IS HEADED TOWARDS AND IN WHAT WAY?

Yes, F2M will change the direction of humanity and it will start when enough of us say yes to it. The way it will be done is by dismissing all the abuse and neglect and subtly force the birth of a new reality which is in support of humanity. Its function is as a midwife assisting a birth of a new baby, which is the new consciousness.

Down the ages we have not understood the power of collective consciousness. When more than one agrees on a direction, it forms a collective consciousness. This collective has made man do many inhuman things, just because a group agrees with, and supports this consciousness. From the world war to the genocide, all have been fuelled and started by this collective consciousness.

One of the acts of F2M, is to create a universal consciousness and not to emphasize on the collective to determine life's direction and action.

IF THE CURRENT CONSCIOUSNESS IS SO DEEP / INHERENT HOW CAN A SIMPLE "YES" TO F2M CREATE A SHIFT?

Good question and the answer is in it. Imagine by not saying anything we have created this world and now imagine by saying yes, a positive action, what it will do. By not doing anything we have done this, imagine by doing something what we can do.

And the first action is to say yes ... I know it sounds so simple, but a billion people saying yes is not a simple matter. It will effect every aspect of our lives. From economic to political to social this yes will penetrate and create a new order in behavior, thinking and action.

It's like I went sailing for the first time and I saw the sail was so big and tall, and the radar was so small, I was wondering how could this radar direct the energy and force which the sails are gathering. But without much trouble when you shift the wheels of the radar, the mighty ship follows it. Your yes, is the radar, and the sail and ship are all the elements like politics, economy and so on.

I am reminded of Tun Dr Mahathir's statement, the next super power is the residents of this world, the whole 6 billion of them, and they are the "yes" we want to effect this world.

The only thing that we lose is the luxury to leave to the other to do what we need to do, and the responsibility we need to fulfill.

You have also asked that the current consciousness is so deep and inherent, how can it be changed, but what you fail to see is the effect is so deep and inherent. The hurt, the misery, the despair, is so deep too, thus the depth of this consciousness is the undoing of it too.

Any door that is provided will be received and taken with gratitude.

That is why I say, the time has come for this to flower, for F2M to take its place in the action for a better world.

HOW WILL THIS IMPACT THE BIGGER PICTURE, WHAT ARE THE ECONOMICAL OR POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS?

What we are trying to do is to impact the bigger picture, with the understanding that only when the bigger picture is impacted will the smaller be as well. It's like the climate has to be right for the seed to flower. This is the key understanding that we are working on.

When we have created an economic and political state which supports this, for the first time the healing takes place. The nature of the economic and political state is what we have to work with, I don't have a conclusive idea of it, it's something when we come together with this demand which is to act as F2M, we will form it. We will find ways to make it a reality. This much humanity has proven; that when the demand is placed we always find a way, but whether it's destructive or constructive is a conscious choice we have to make.

But the first step is to allow the small to come together to effect the bigger picture. To place the demand and challenge clearly and completely to yourself. That which has been missing so far is that the challenge has not been placed clearly, we have been busy clearing one mess before another starts. Thus we have been distracted and unclear of that challenge which we need to meet.

What has to be understood is that there will be no heroes, only ordinary people doing what they can and I truly believe that would be enough. It will not be a singular entity but a global one.

This is one of the foundations of F2M; that is for each to take personal responsibility and to do that which is within one's power to make things happen. As one consciously manages his sphere, the entire sphere will fall right.

It's a statement I have heard J. Krishnamurthi used again and again, that we are the rest of mankind. When we on an individual level, act and hold on to that commitment, the effect will be so spontaneous that the whole will be effected.

WHAT ARE THE CHALLENGES THAT SOMEONE UNDERTAKES WHEN THEY SAY YES TO BEING A FRIEND TO MANKIND?

First ... say it, and see for yourself.

The most obvious which you will see is the whole of you will change, the way you will approach this world and living will change. You will, as much as you consider you, you will start to consider others. The entire dynamics of thinking will evolve, this yes will seep into every aspect of your life and living.

You have undertaken to transform to be a F2M. What has to be understood is we are the byproduct of the old mind and conditioning, and this has to be transformed. We have to evolve to accommodate the new. The new is not going to accommodate us but we have to evolve to accommodate this.

The beauty is, the transformation is not going to come with effort but effortlessly when you say yes and this yes is repeated. It's like this; if you watch children, especially boys, playing with toy guns you will see that very effortlessly the violent nature is being nurtured, and all of us are willing to buy toy guns to give our sons. Then we turn around and read a paper and hear that someone has been shot dead and we can't see the correlation with our action and the news in the paper.

But the moment you have said yes to F2M, you will see the relationship, you will connect it. You will see and without much effort act accordingly.

The only challenge that I see is to detach and prevent one's self from the ongoing consciousness that has caused this civilization. Remember this, there is a great machinery at work, and it's everywhere, and being mindful of it is going to be the real challenge.

If enough of us carry the burden of this, it becomes almost effortless, and a smooth transition towards the new mind will happen. The moment we start enjoying the joy that comes when we have established the F2M and relate based on it, we will see that it's easier to be with one another and this will be the basic demand we have.

HOW IS THIS DIFFERENT FROM EFFORTS CURRENTLY RUN BY THE UNITED NATIONS OR OTHER NGO'S BEFORE?

They are trying to solve problems, and we are trying to destroy problems.

This is the difference.

To solve a problem is because the problem is a reality, that has to be done. There is no other way, but from another direction F2M is going to work to destroy the problems so there are no problems to solve in the first place.

It is like you are thirsty and there is no water, this is a problem that has to be solved, but when this is being settled, someone else can dig for a well and this problem of thirst can be destroyed forever.

The distinction is to solve problems is an emergency action with the emergence of the problem, but to move in a direction that will not ever allow this situation to ever arise. The United Nations and their NGOs are the forefront who are allowing us to do this. They are the front line soldiers that are keeping some sanity in this world.

F2M is to complement them and to work hand in hand in addressing the issues of this world and to reach the same objective of a more enlightened civilization. Because they are there and are doing what they are doing, we can take another direction to do what we can. They are working on the emergency, we are working on the future. What has to be established is we are not trying to make them obsolete, but to strengthen each other based on the task we have taken in hand.

HOW DO YOU SEE THIS APPLIED IN THE CORPORATE WORLD?

This is the first place we are hoping to effect. The world machineries of economy. The corporations are invited to live this basic principle and to instill this principle where we can first bring a new economic morality and conduct. One of the tools that we provide is a short training to all corporations that choose to participate with F2M, and to ask of their intelligence and know how, to instill this within their systems.

We are going to help them see the benefits of being a Friend to mankind. To open them to a worldwide recognition of the values that they hold and are working with, and towards. This makes their intent for the world very transparent. Of late, there is much insight from corporations and their contribution to the world's problems, and this is experienced because much do not see the underlining value that is operational.

The value to serve only the shareholders and the profits is such a dangerous commitment because it can be achieved with many negative results as a by-product of it. I am not saying that the corporation will not focus in profiting but it's not the only thing that it is focused on. The profit is not going to happen at the expense of mankind, social order and nature, but as a profit that profits all, directly or indirectly.

When this is placed upon the corporation, we have enough insight to make this happen, it is like fire and how we use it, when the criteria is for constructive the fire can be harnessed in a way it will not be destructive but unchecked this same fire can destroy. Because it has both elements and it has no consciousness.

What F2M is trying to instill is a corporation with consciousness, not a blind machinery for profits. The corporations of the world that profit from it, have a moral obligation to also participate with its well-being and the upkeep of it. In my discussion with some corporations, they have unbelievably given great support. For they see the need and there was no avenue towards doing something about it.

When F2M provides this platform, they not only seem to welcome it but are begging to participate in it completely. These are the people that I believe that will be able to bring the new order because they are already hard at work and the machinery for success is there, and F2M can sail with this same force.

I believe that the wellness of humanity will eventually be the core of all business, and this would be good business and will produce a new life affirming economy that will lead to the vision of F2M.

DOES THAT MEAN THAT WE BECOME THE SAME OR WHAT HAPPENS TO OUR INDIVIDUALITY?

This question has been brought up many times, and what has to be understood is that the question is born out of the fear of the individual not surviving. Understand this, the consciousness that we are in now is what prevents individuality from surviving; only a group or collective consciousness can exist.

The idea of being an individual is so hard and arduous that this idea of being an individual has fallen to a group of people wanting to be different for the sake of being different and that has created another group. The very exercise to be an individual has failed by its sheer attempt.

When the F2M is established for the first time, I believe that individuality can flower because the group mind is not needed. There is a universal bond that happens based on respect, friendship and humanity. This universal umbrella will allow and support individuality securely without needing to group up which will destroy individuality eventually.

It's interesting if you observe the word individual, which means undividable or singular, and this has been the quest of humanity, which is to find oneself as unique and whole. This has been an impossibility for now because of the fear to survive and there is no other way but to belong to a group. And the rules to belong to a group is to give up your individuality, one way or other. I am not talking against groups but when there is a universal agreement the group does not dominate man's psyche for security, it will appear as cooperation to get a task done.

The way I see it, only when the universal meeting is done can the individual survive, not until then. Until then we will be influenced and shaped by outside forces and norms and initiation processes to be in a group will go on. The loss of one being an individual is so much, that we have not even perceived it. An individual will enrich this existence because he brings his uniqueness to mankind.

One of the insights to F2M is to establish the universal and in this security, the individual will shine forth and when we need to form a group it will be non-exploitative in nature. Nations will be more for governing the well-being and it will serve truly from the parameters in which abuse will vanish, and if at all it is attempted from the beginning it will be seen for what it is and acted upon.

It is interesting to know too many things have gone on undetected because we were not looking in the right direction or were distracted by the group mind. This has to change first; transparency in all has to be established. When the foundation F2M is established, it will work to allow us to see clearly and ask the right questions. There is a saying my father will always say, wrong is not wrong, but when you can't even see it as wrong that is when it really becomes a wrong and someone pays for this wrong. When a wrong is seen as wrong then something can be done as it is beginning.

HOW WOULD SOMEONE PARTICIPATE TO BE A FRIEND TO MANKIND?

For now, just putting on the badge will help, supporting some of the awareness programmes will help, signing up as a Friend to mankind will help. This is how we are starting. Tell a friend, pass a brochure, donate a dollar, is how you can participate with this.

But the most important participation is when you live it and internalize it. What has to be kept in mind is we are not trying to create a group or a sect. We are not doing that, we are just trying to dissolve this idea, this possibility, into the consciousness of mankind.

But for those who have some energy or some time, please contact your local area where there is an office or a branch of this F2M and please feel free to help us out in any way. Just keep in mind the first objective is tell the whole world about F2M and have a silent agreement worldwide to move towards this.

A LOT OF CORPORATE COMPANIES AND NATIONS ARE DOING A LOT OF WORK TO HELP NATIONS IN TERMS OF CHARITY AND SO ON, HOW DOES THIS CONSCIOUSNESS RELATE TO THAT?

This is the same thing but it acts in isolation. If it is charity then it is good. It is to do what has to happen, with F2M it falls under an umbrella and many more people can participate worldwide in a way we may own a world that does not need charity at all, if at all that is possible.

With F2M we would like to change the idea of charity to an action of personal responsibility, thus we do not only rely on some good natured people who are so few, but an act by all.

What has to be understood is that the good natured people are feeling helpless, that is why we have charity, an action to do something despite the helpless state. To do something where the system has failed or the mass consciousness has abandoned it. Like homeless people, there is nothing the current consciousness can do, so charity comes to its aid. Now what has to happen is that nothing in this world must fall out of our consciousness and responsibility.

F2M is attempting to do this.

HOW DO YOU SEE THIS ENRICHING THE GLOBAL CONSCIOUSNESS?

I do not believe it will enrich it, but will show us how rich we really are. It is not going to add anything but reveal what is there.

It is like love, all of us have it, but it just gets lost in the shadow of hatred, anger and so on. Once these shadows are lightened, the real nature of humanity shines forth. Again and again we have seen this, Oscar Schindler in the Nazi camp who helped many is one of many in the world. Just that they are drowned in the shadows of darkness. These are the people that need to come together under a universal understanding, so the real beauty is seen.

The way I see it, F2M is a way of giving humanity a chance to bring out the best that it has got to offer. This chance has never been provided, in a very universal way and with a transparent intent. Conflict, self serving interest, nationalistic ideas which are immoral to another nation is the only thing we have come to see. In this mess we have reached a point that we feel paralysed and fear grips us. The only time we feel some sanity is when this fear and paralysis seems to subside for a while, but we know it's there and it's coming.

Ever since 2000 we have reached an era to confront the world conflict first hand. All of us have felt it, seen it, suffered from it, and have a view about it.

This is the turning point for humanity, and the time we have come to. We have to harness this wave and give ourselves and our children a chance so they may feel that their children's children will inherit a world that is better than how we found it.

I will repeat it again; F2M is a chance we give ourselves to bring the best of humanity and to make it how we really are. It's a declaration of entering this challenge.

Love.

Dhyan Vimal.
